

Consignment Concierge Services

DoubleTake would like to offer our exclusive Consignment Concierge service. This valuable and highly personal service makes cleaning out your closets a highly rewarding experience.

DoubleTake is the country's premier luxury consignment boutique specializing in designer women's clothing, accessories and footwear and has been operating very successfully in Short Hills New Jersey for nearly two decades. Additionally, we have recently expanded and opened three new locations in Englewood, Red Bank and Ridgewood New Jersey.

As a discerning consumer, you'll appreciate the convenience, knowledge and value that we can provide by helping you clear out your closets. Our most prominent consignors appreciate the assistance in making room for the next season's wardrobe as well the ability to turn their unwanted merchandise into cash.

This premier service makes it extremely convenient for you as we will either pick up your items at your home or office or provide our personal consignment concierge service, where we will review your clothing and accessories and determine what items have resale value. We have constant demand for high-end designers like Louis Vuitton, Gucci, Chanel, Hermes, Marc Jacobs, etc.

Our loyal base of 10,000 consignors is proof that we provide a valuable service to women with clothing just too valuable to give away. By offering them the ability to effortlessly clear out their closets, while earning back some of their original purchase price, we make the DoubleTake experience rewarding in many ways.

I would like the opportunity to discuss our service with you at greater detail, so please feel free to email (marci@edoubletake.com) or call me at 201-320-6980 if you'd like to learn more. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Marci Kessler
